SHIP IN GRIP OF MUTINY

Captain Defies Crew With Gun

Schooner Goes Aground Off Carolinas as Skipper Fights for Life

Coast Guardsmen Take Men Off Vessel After One Attempt Is Repulsed

WILMINGTON (N. C.) Dec. 14. (P)—A mutinous crew demanding the captain relinquish his command, while the skipper held them off with a single-handed gun, was a dramatic incident of the sea, pictured today in reports received here as having occurred on the four-masted schooner Charles A. Dean, wrecked on the Frying Pan shoals.

Members of the crew were brought to the Coast Guard station here late tonight by Coast Guardsmen who had been refused permission by the captain to board the vessel earlier in the day when they went to its rescue.

Returning with rifles, they found no trouble in getting aboard, and taking off the crew. The captain remained with the ship. The crew, numbering eight, will be held pending an investigation of the trouble.

Members of the crew said the captain had forbidden them to go ashore after the ship grounded. They gave no reason for this action.

When the Coast Guard first approached the schooner in their patrol boat, they said they discovered that the captain was "hard and fast" with a gun guarding the helm, while the crew was shouting demands that he surrender.

The schooner went ashore while a heavy gale was blowing. She was described by the Coast Guard as "hard and fast" on the shoals.

Four tugs were dispatched from here and Southport, N. C., to attempt to pull the ship from the rocks. The captain of the tugs, however, did not believe the schooner was salvageable and the high tide laid tonight.

LONG LOST FLAG FOUND AT CARMEL

Union Jack of American Officer's Club in London Mailed to War Veteran

MONTEREY, Dec. 14. (P)—The Union Jack that mysteriously disappeared from the American Officers' Club in London, Eng., in the fall of 1914, and which was the object of an intensive search by operatives of the naval intelligence department, arrived in Carmel today from an unknown source. Paul Flinders of Carmel, captain of a squadron of American battle cruisers, stationed at Aberdeen, Scotland, during the World War, recovered the flag today from an unidentified person who mailed the flag to him in London without registering it or giving a return address.

The Union Jack was presented to the American Officers' Club, whose headquarters were at Washington, D. C., in 1917. In the fall of the following year, the flag mysteriously disappeared.

Mrs. Sara Denning of Carmel, who was house mother of the officers' club during the war, has various flinders that she will "lift the flag from him."

The incident occurred at the intersection of Van Ness avenue and Bush street. The five trucks were demolished by the impact of the collision. Investigators decided tonight that the accident was unavoidable.

GREEN DOGGED BY SPIES, HE DISCLOSES TO JURY

Says Mystery Women Were Planted
at Hotel to Entrap Him;
Liggett Aids Defense

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14. (P)—Mysterious men and women "shadowed" him constantly during the ten months he was prohibition administrator of Northern California and Nevada, Col. Ned M. Green testified in the United States District Court here today when he was under cross-examination during his trial on a charge of having embezzled confiscated liquors from the government.

"I am familiar with police work," he told Asst. U. S. Atty. Bennett, "and from the time I assumed office in September until I was suspended last July I know that my every movement was being watched. I was trailed on the streets, while riding on street cars and while going about my affairs. It even reached a point where women were planted in my hotel to spy on me."

The witness made the statement in reply to a question submitted by Bennett in which Col. Green was asked to explain why he always had taken such careful precautions always to remove all empty bottles of every description from his room.

"I knew these 'plants' women would interview the maids and I did not want them to be told that empty bottles frequently were found in my rooms," Col. Green said.

The persistent cross-examination being directed at Col. Green by Bennett was interrupted briefly for the appearance on the witness stand as a character witness for the defendant by Maj. Gen. Hunter Liggett, commander of the First Division of the American troops in France, former commander of the Ninth Corps Area and now retired from active service.

FRAMES COLONEL
Gen. Liggett said that Col. Green's record for "integrity and character and sobriety was excellent," and that he is "not a drinking man."

Addressing the witness, Bennett said: "General, I have the highest regard for you as a man, a soldier and a patriot. It was my pleasure to serve under you in France and I recall once standing, shivering, in the rain, waiting to pass in review before you with the troops. No officer is intended by this question. But, didn't you once recommend for a commission in the National Guard a man who turned out to be a 'plant'?"

Gen. Liggett sought to draw out an admission that Col. Liggett could be impelled mistakenly to testify as to the true character of a person. He asked the witness to recall the name of the man.

"General, Col. Green is not an important man," he replied.

Asked if he had told government investigators he occasionally had taken from confiscated stocks one or two bottles of "good liquor," which was set aside for hospital patients requiring a stimulant and that this "might be a technical violation of regulations," Col. Green replied: "My memory is not clear on that statement but I positively said something along that line. I always believed it wrong to deprive institutions of sick patients of necessary liquor by junking them, and I'm still of the same opinion."

Col. Green then described how he had sent a bottle of liquor out of his own private stock to an army officer who was dying in a hospital at the San Francisco Presidio.

"Alas, darling of my office, on his return from the hospital, Col. McCue was very grateful for the whisky and would need an additional bottle to take with him. I gave him the bottle and he took it to the train trip to an Eastern hospital."

"I instructed Maj. Darling to go to the office of Col. McCue and tell him my assistant, obtain another quart of good liquor. If possible, and give it to Col. McCue. I told him we could get no more."

Col. Green said he never visited the enforcement office on Sunday.

FOUR NO WINE
He said that he took on wine away from the prohibition office at any time, confining his withdrawals to whisky, which he visited to entertain according to his duties. He had not tasted a drop of sherry wine for ten years, he said, in answer to testimony offered by Ivan Johnson, young newspaper man, that he saw a bottle of sherry wine in his hotel room.

Col. Green said he once was strongly importuned by young Johnson for a story for his paper in regard to the fact that he might make a better impression with his city editor and perhaps get a raise in salary.

The Canadian Nationalist government, today informed the British Minister, Miles Lampton, that unless the powers grant the southern a share in the customs surplus proportionate to the territory occupied, the southern will confiscate the customs revenue throughout the territory occupied.

Mr. Chen also informed the Japanese government that the Cantonese will not recognize any treaty negotiations between Japan and the Peking government, but making it necessary for Japan to obtain the southern's view respecting a renewal of the Sino-Japanese treaty, which expires shortly.

COOLIDGE HAS EYE ON CHINA

More, in recent speeches has indicated his sympathy with the position taken by the South Chinese. He has even indicated his belief that territoriality should be abolished and that the traditional American policy of isolation should be abandoned.

On the other hand, Mr. Brown was an American member of the committee on extraterritoriality in China, set up by the treaties that came from the Washington conference of 1911-12. That committee's report, which was the basis of the current studies in China and because of the disturbed conditions there incident to the civil war, found it impossible to make concrete recommendations at this time. It could not find a responsible national government sufficiently effective with which to deal and negotiate. Mr. Brown also was a member of the committee on Chinese tariffs created by the Washington treaties.

In his speeches he has taken the position that no forward steps can be taken in the matter of ending extraterritoriality in China or reducing the Chinese customs tariff now dominated by aliens until a stable government has been established in that country, and enough to enforce its decrees and to make good on its treaty promises.

NON-COMMITTAL
The impression prevails in Washington that the question soon will be presented in compelling form, to the several powers, as to whether or not recognition should be extended to the southern government because the nominal government at Peking appears to be a puppet.

The friend of the southern government, Mr. Brown, has received material support from Bolshevik Russia, are attempting to overthrow the government, and the fact that it has received material support from Bolshevik Russia, are attempting to overthrow the government, and the fact that it has received material support from Bolshevik Russia, are attempting to overthrow the government.

The moral of the remarks uttered at the White House today, disclaiming responsibility for the utterances of Mr. Brown, apparently is that this government is not committing itself at this time one way or another on the matter of recognition.

Chang Kai Shek swept on to Peking, trying with him the authority of the southern government, this will become the de facto government of China and recognition will become a practical necessity.

FARM AID IN NEW GUISE

McNary Offers
Bill in Senate

Measure Without Most of Objectionable Features of Predecessor

Controversy on Sponsorship
Prevents Introduction in Lower House

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (P)—A new farm-relief bill in last year's demands appeared in the Senate today, but controversy over whose name should grace it prevented its introduction in the House.

The measure, embodying the essence of the McNary bill of last year, but short of most of its objectionable provisions, was offered by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, father of the bill which has weathered two years of stormy wrangling, and the House Agriculture Committee.

A companion bill was turned over to Representative Farnell, Republican, Missouri, and Senator McNary, Democrat, South Carolina, with a request from Senate farm leaders that they introduce it jointly, thus indicating support from the three great farming regions—Far West, Middle West and South.

Mr. Farnell and McNary are members of the House Agriculture Committee.

APPROVAL EXPRESSED
Representative Farnell immediately expressed his complete approval of the measure, characterizing it as the best farm-relief bill yet to appear in Congress, but until he obtained the views of his superior on the Agriculture Committee—Chairman McNary, he did not want to go in with it.

In similar terms, Representative Farnell expressed the opinion that McNary's bill was the best farm-relief bill yet to appear in Congress, but until he obtained the views of his superior on the Agriculture Committee—Chairman McNary, he did not want to go in with it.

Meanwhile, Chairman McNary withheld final approval until opportunity for further study was afforded.

The McNary bill is all that we hope for," he said, "but I wish to study it before I give my expression."

The bill is understood to embody the latest views of a substantial number of farm leaders in both Houses.

MEASURE COMMENTED
Representative Dickinson, Republican, of Iowa, a farm leader, said he considered the measure the most finished piece of legislation to ease the farm situation that could be devised.

However, basically a McNary-Haugen bill, the new measure is different in several respects.

The tariff yardstick advocated by Chairman Haugen and the "fair trade" clause, which would eliminate the price standards or price supports, were dropped. The McNary bill contains no reference to price standards or price supports, but it does contain a provision for the elimination of the tariff in the declaration that one of its aims is to "secure the most advantageous domestic market."

The much discussed equalization fee remains, but it is amended to provide for the most equitable distribution of the fee among all producers. The fee may be collected in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture, or it may be collected in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture, or it may be collected in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture.

COMMODITIES AFFECTED

DAY IN CONGRESS

By the Associated Press
The Senate passed a bill to liberalize the immigration law. The Senate took up the controversial House rivers and harbor bill.

Consideration of the Interior Department supply bill was continued by the House.

The revised McNary-Haugen farm bill was introduced by Senator McNary of Oregon.

Senator Prater of North Dakota was invited back into organization ranks by Senate Republicans.

There was considerable debate and Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, made a long speech warning that more discussion of its provisions was in sight.

The section inserted by the Senate Commerce Committee in the bill, passed by the House last session, providing that property owned by the Missouri River should meet the cost of the proposed improvement between Kansas and Missouri, was the principal object of attack today.

Senator Curtis of Kansas, the Democratic leader, joined Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, in demanding that the provisions be reinstated in the bill.

"It's the government's job here," Senator Curtis argued, "and it is in all the other projects in this bill. There is no justice in anything but in proposing that the Missouri River should meet the cost of the proposed improvement between Kansas and Missouri, was the principal object of attack today."

WRECKLESS CAREER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (P)—Five hours of discussion produced only a few changes in the Interior Department appropriation bill today but blocked House leaders plan for passage of the measure before adjournment.

The session closed in the midst of an argument over a provision authorizing operation of steamship lines between Alaska and the mainland, representative Treadway, Republican, Massachusetts, who made a point of the fact that the measure, which had no place in an appropriation bill.

Another change in the bill, which knocked out a provision to fix a charge of $3 for each automobile license in the state of New York, was a point of order by Representative Byrnes, Democrat, Tennessee, declaring he was in favor of even higher levy, he contended the provision was legislative and improper in a supply bill.

NORTHERN ARIZONA IN SEVERE COLD GRIP

PHOENIX, Dec. 14. (Exclusive)—Severe cold in Northern Arizona has followed eleven days of rainfall and official declaration of killing frosts in Southern Arizona today was given by the Weather Bureau. The growing season has been ended and the cold has been declared.

Word from Belvidere stated that an army of men were ready with oil heaters and lighters there for frost. Albert Cooke, who predicts the low temperatures for the Belvidere district as a part of the government fire-protection service for the citrus fruit, said reports from Highlands, Fontana, Bialto, Bloomington and other points in the district indicated temperatures ranging from 36 to 38 deg. A drying northwest wind yesterday was taken as an indication that the frost would be severe and Cooke predicted a low mark of from 25 to 30. The danger point is 34.

which reported the coldest night of the winter. There was no damage to crops, however, as Santa Monica no frost was reported in the bay district. The temperature there fell to 40 deg. after midnight but had climbed back to 45 at 7 a. m.

San Pedro reported a minimum temperature of 43 after yesterday morning, also the lowest mark of the season there. The registration at 6 a. m. was 45 deg. and the maximum for the twenty-four-hour period ending at the hour was 58.

The lowest mark reached at Anaheim was 38, advice stated.

Word from Belvidere stated that an army of men were ready with oil heaters and lighters there for frost. Albert Cooke, who predicts the low temperatures for the Belvidere district as a part of the government fire-protection service for the citrus fruit, said reports from Highlands, Fontana, Bialto, Bloomington and other points in the district indicated temperatures ranging from 36 to 38 deg. A drying northwest wind yesterday was taken as an indication that the frost would be severe and Cooke predicted a low mark of from 25 to 30. The danger point is 34.

BOYS LOST IN SNOWSTORM HUNTED

VANCOUVER (B.C.) Dec. 14. (Exclusive)—Shrouded in a fierce snowstorm with the mercury at 14 above zero, Dox Mountain, north of Vancouver, refused to divulge the fate of two boys believed to have perished among the peaks. Search parties led by police were forced to descend to night without results, but an organized search will be conducted tomorrow.

Clarence Robertson, 18 years of age, and Cameron MacLean, 14, left home early Sunday to scale the peak. They were last seen on Monday night when they had not returned.

Twenty members of the British Columbia Mountaineers Club left today to join the search. They camped tonight on lower slopes and will make the ascent at dawn.

It is probable that the boys may have been injured and the other is guarding him, keeping a fire alight until the rescuers arrive.

LA FOLLETTE IN PROMOTION LINE

General Shifting in Heads of Committees Near

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (Exclusive)—Elevation of young Bob La Follette to the Senate chairmanship formerly held by his father is in prospect after March 4 as a result of shifts in committee assignments approved today.

A long list of committee changes ratified by the Senate on the recommendation of a conference of Republican Senators included the appointment of Senator Willis, Republican, Maryland, as chairman of the Committee on Manufactures to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator McKinley, Republican, Illinois. The late Illinois Senator obtained the place when the elder La Follette was read out of the Republican party by his Senate colleagues and removed from the chairmanship of this committee.

Senator Willis was defeated for reelection in November and will retire on March 4, again leaving the manufacture committee chairmanship vacant. Senator La Follette was given the place on the committee in the last session as the foot of the Republican list. Ahead of him in rank are Senators McNary, Republican, Oregon; McLean, Republican, Connecticut; and Metcalf, Republican, Rhode Island.

Senator McNary today became chairman of the Committee on Agriculture and Senator Metcalf was reappointed as chairman of the Committee on Patents, while Senator McLean is serving as chairman of the committee on Commerce and Customs. With these Senators already holding chairmanships which they regard as more desirable than the one they were given, it is expected that Senator La Follette will move to the chairmanship of the committee on Manufactures.

New chairman of committee approved today besides Senators McNary, La Follette and Metcalf, included Senator La Follette, Republican, Illinois, as chairman of the Committee on Civil Service, Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, as chairman of the Committee on Education and the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, as chairman of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, as chairman of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

PARK COMPANY WINS BUS FIGHT

Rail Commission Reaffirms Yosemite Decision

Four of Five Members Join in Support of Ruling

Monopoly to Valley Railroad Company Refused

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14. (Exclusive)—Following to change its original decision after studying the situation for the second time, the State Railroad Commission today announced that both the Yosemite Valley Railway Company and the Yosemite Park and Curry Company will be allowed to operate motor buses over the new all-year highway into the national park.

The struggle between the two transportation companies for use of the new highway has been a long one, bitterly contested. The commission decided on November 10, last, that both organizations were entitled to operate motor buses on the new highway, and today's decision reaffirms the former opinion.

Four members of the commission, Harry W. Brundage, Clyde L. Seavy, Leon O. Whitwell and Thomas S. Louie, agreeing on the decision, stated: "We have carefully considered all the evidence presented by both companies and cannot see any reason why we should not adhere to our original decision of issuing a certificate to both organizations."

Earn W. Deane filed a dissenting opinion. He stated that most short-line railways in the state have been forced to go out of business because of competition from motor vehicles and that the Yosemite Valley Railway Company would probably be forced to do likewise if faced with competition. He pointed out that it would only be a short time until an application for freight motor buses would be applied for and this would mean the loss of freight business to the railway company.

Three solutions to the problem have been offered by Commissioner Deane. He suggested that no certificate for automobiles or trucks be granted to either company, but that the road be kept clear for private automobiles; that a certificate be granted to the railway company alone with provision for adequate service; or that both applications be dismissed and a new company formed by both organizations, each holding a half interest.

Permission to discontinue the agency from November to April, inclusive, was granted. Dutch Flat was one of the booming camps of the Old West and the center of much of the romance of the mining days.

Rum Ship Captain Confesses False Affidavit

Cargo Billed to Mexico Port Meant for California

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Dec. 14. (AP)—Capt. R. G. Lawson, former master of the liquor vessel Trucilla, told a royal commission here today that he made a false affidavit regarding a voyage of the ship after he had been threatened by F. R. Anderson, a Vancouver lawyer. A McGillivray, owner of the boat, and Russell Whitelaw, vice-president of the Consolidated Exporters of British Columbia, shipper of the liquor.

Anderson and Whitelaw, testifying after Lawson, denied the accusation. On a voyage of the Trucilla in 1923, Lawson said, 1400 cases of liquor were shipped to Mexico. Lawson said he was threatened by Anderson to smuggle liquor back into the United States. Canadian customs officers interrupted the unloading and seized the ship. Lawson, in an affidavit seeking the release of the ship, swore that the ship stopped at Tumbuco Island to balance the cargo and that no liquor was unloaded.

Lawson, in another affidavit, in which he maintained that he told the truth, he said the liquor was to be transferred to other vessels on the island. He declared that the first affidavit was made after McGillivray, Anderson and Whitelaw had threatened to have his master's license revoked if he did not execute it. Whitelaw declared the liquor was to be unloaded in California.

PROMOTER NABBED AS SWINDLER

E. G. Brady Held After Asserted $500,000 Sales of Oil Stock

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14. (Exclusive)—A $500,000 "oil bubble" burst here tonight and as a result of the explosion E. G. Brady, asserted high pressure promoter, lately of Los Angeles and Long Beach, is in the San Mateo County Jail.

Brady, organizer and head of the Sure Shot Oil Company, was arrested in Redwood City on a secret indictment by the Federal grand jury. Through his assertedly fraudulent operations, here, in Los Angeles and in Long Beach, Brady has in the last two years swindled stock purchasers out of $800,000, according to United States District Attorney George J. Hatfield.

Most of the stock was disposed of through the old "ballyhoo" system. Key lists of "stockholders" were prepared, prospective purchasers who were invited to visit the oil field, were given auto trips, free lunches and free lectures on profits. It is charged.

When dividends were not forthcoming, stockholders in the south began an investigation and postal inspectors traced Brady here.

Brady is said to have represented himself as a large stockholder in the Elk Hills development controlled by M. L. Doheny.

SACASA ISSUES REPLY TO DIAZ

Gives His Version of Affairs in Nicaragua

Set Up Government to Aid Constitutional Order

Promises to Give Property Rights Protection

PUERTO CARRERAS (Nicaragua) Dec. 14. (AP)—Responding to a request to state his aims and to comment on the manifesto issued on the 11th inst. by the Conservative President, Diaz, at Managua, Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa, head of the Liberal government set up at Puerto Carreras, has given to the Associated Press the following signed statement:

"The undersigned (Dr. Sacasa) is glad to give his point of view and to state the aims of himself and the Liberal party in the present Nicaraguan controversy. The affirmation which the manifesto of Adolfo Diaz contains with respect to the Nicaraguan government's support of the Liberal movement in equipping ships to transport an escort of Mexican gunboats is false; it was invented for the purpose of exciting the suspicion of American public opinion against the just cause for which the Nicaraguan people are fighting.

"The antecedents of the conflict may be found in the committee (elections) of October, 1924, in which Carlos Solano and myself were elected President and Vice-President for the term of 1925-26, respectively, by a large majority. We took the oath of office before Congress and this de jure government was recognized by the United States and other nations.

COUP D'ETAT

"In October, 1925, Benigno Chamorro, who was defeated in the 1924 elections; Adolfo Diaz and other members of the Conservative party engineered by means of treason and subordination a coup d'etat, dislodging the government, Congress, the municipal authorities and the courts, and substituting under military pressure functionaries chosen by persons not elected in the service of de facto government.

"On January 14, 1926, Chamorro assumed the Presidency of the republic by reason of the resignation of President Solano, in violation of the constitution, which prescribes that in default of the President, the Vice-President is called upon to assume the powers of government, and submitted the country to a regime of terrors and despotism without precedent. The undersigned was violently persecuted and compelled to leave the country.

"Continuing the development of the plan against legitimate order, a Congress, corrupted by the military dictatorship of Chamorro, designated as the President Adolfo Diaz, who was the principal factor in the coup d'etat, and supplanted me anew in my post as Vice-President.

"For months I advised the people to await peacefully the result of the action of the government's signatory to the Central American treaties and the moral influence of the government of the United States.

PEOPLE REVOLT

"Tired of waiting longer in vain, the people rose against the unconstitutional order. In compliance with my unavoidable duties and obeying the popular will, I returned to Nicaragua and organized at this place the constitutional government. It is so happens that Diaz represents usurpation, and I the constitution and law.

"In a manifesto to the people I declared as false an attempt attributed to me to subvert social order in Nicaragua, a charge which was made for the purpose of prejudicing American public opinion, whose high sense of justice ought to favor the constitutional government which I represent.

"On the contrary I will guarantee effectively the property rights of Nicaraguans and foreigners, opening the doors to every aid in favor of our progress. I also declared that I have not entered into any obligations of any kind with any government, or corporation which may restrict freedom of action politically or economically.

HOPES FOR PEACE

"I shall endeavor to guarantee peace based on a policy of conciliation and mutual aid to all my fellow citizens without exception, but also maintaining firmly the commands of the Constitution.

"I cherish the hope of tightening the relations with the peoples and governments of the Americas and of adhering with mutual respect to rights and treaties which are the high objects of international co-operation. I maintain that the rules of justice and respect for the institutions of weak countries constitute the most efficacious medium to affirm the friendship and welfare of the people of the American continent.

"I commend the interest of the Associated Press in offering its facilities and publishing the statements of the opposing factions controlling in Nicaragua, and thus serving loyally the elevated aims of journalism (Signed) "SACASA."

CALLAHAN WON'T BOX IN GOTHAM

Mushy Refuses Bout in New York Tourney for Welters

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. (AP)—"Mushy" Callahan, the Pacific Coast boxer, to- day declined to participate in a wel- terweight elimination contest au- thorized last week by the State Ath- letic Commission to find a competi- tor for Pete Latzo, welterweight champion.

"Mushy Callahan will be glad to meet Pete Latzo, the welterweight champion, or any other outstanding welterweight, but he will not enter any tourney in which he will be forced to give away seven or eight pounds in a continuous series of bouts."

This was the answer yesterday of Eddie Sears, manager of Callahan, to the story from New York that Callahan had refused to enter a welterweight tourney to develop an outstanding opponent for Latzo.

When Callahan fought Finky Mitchell for the junior welterweight title and won, he weighed 138 3-4 pounds. This is a 1-4 pounds under the welterweight limit at which Callahan would be asked to meet candidates in a tourney such as the one proposed by the New York commission.

Sears declared he would be a suc- cess to permit Callahan, engaging in such a tourney, although he reiterated a willingness for Mushy to meet any welterweight, including Latzo.

GETTING READY FOR SATURDAY

Inglewood and Covina clash at the Coliseum next Saturday for the Southern California prep grid cham- pionship, so it's no wonder that the boys are working so hard in the pictures below. The top photo shows Lee Cannon, star Sentinel guard, and his running-mate, Center Mike Steponovich, about to block an asser- ted Covina punt, place-kick, or what have you. Cannon blocked a punt and a place-kick against Burbank last week and figured largely in Inglewood's 14-10 victory. Down below we have Louie "Dutch" Richter, chunky Covina fullback, side-stepping and straight-arming imaginary Inglewood foes. Richter is expected to be one of the shining lights in next Saturday's battle.

TUSCALOOSA (Ala.) Dec. 14. (Re- stant)—As the Crimson Tide of Alabama rounds into its final train- ing process for the excursion to Pasadena, it is becoming evident that young Archie Taylor, the Savannah (Ga.) flash, is likely to start his first game for Alabama. If Archie lines up as one of the four backs at the start of the Stanford tussle, it will be an honor earned by brilliant ex- hibitions every time he was called on during the past season.

There's no doubt that Archie would have earned his spurs as a regular starter early in the season had he not met with in- jury in the third game of the year. Against Vanderbilt on Oc-

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

THE eastern fight world seems to find it hard to reconcile Mushy Callahan's willing- ness to fight Pete Latzo for the welterweight title with his re- fusal to enter a New York welterweight tourney. However, this is easy to explain. Callahan is still just what he told the New York Boxing Commission—a lightweight within the meaning of that term as applied to ulne out of every ten fighters ranked in that division.

Callahan weighed 138 3-4 pounds when he won the junior welterweight title from Finky Mitchell. When he met Archie Walker in New York Mushy scaled in at 135 pounds. The rigors of the New York climate were too much for him, and his manager, Eddie Sears, says it is doubtful if he would weigh more than 137 or 138 pounds back there. This would be giving away nearly ten pounds in a welterweight tourney. He could do it for one match, perhaps, but not for a series.

The All-Opponents team, which is an all-star aggregation chosen by the Trojans from eleven which played against them, is unique in that it puts the spot- light on at least one boy who was never even mentioned on any of the all-star teams selected by Coast experts this year.

Harry "Kid" Brown, Philadelphia lightweight who substituted for Russ Whalen in the main event at Jack Doyle's Vernon Coliseum last night, added another upset to the 10-1-1 string that has been surprising Los Angeles fight fans, by taking a decisive decision over Baby Joe Gans, colored lightweight flash. Brown got off to a flying start in the opening round when he sent over a snap- py left hook that put Gans down for a three count. Baby Joe took about three rounds to recover from the effects of that wallop and during that time Brown piled up a 10-1-1 round margin.

Gans decided to mix it in the fifth, and a lively session was the result, but Brown held his own in the mix-ups with the straight-punching colored flash.

Baby Joe did better in the sixth and seventh, but Brown came back strong in the eighth, which he took by a big margin. Gans threw caution to the winds in the ninth and set out to win by a knockout. Brown was on the receiving end of a sock of lefts and rights that had him wobbling on his pins when the bell sounded to end the round.

The Philadelphia battler recovered his strength during the one minute rest and traded punches evenly with Gans in the tenth, which was about even-tempered. Before Harry Lee, who made his first appearance at Vernon in about six weeks, awarded the verdict to Brown and there was little if any dissection from the half-filled arena of fans.

The card was chock full of action and deserved better patronage, but the fans are wary of turning out for substitute main events, especially when they are newcomers from the East. The fans were sent home early for three bouts ended in a hurry.

The semi-wind-up was among the bouts to terminate early, the end coming in the second round, when

PREPS END LOCAL SEASON

Covina and Inglewood Wind up High School Grid Year in Southern California Saturday

BY BOB MAY

Los Angeles football fans will get their last chance to see prep gridgers in action this year Saturday afternoon at the Coliseum, where Coach Art Badenoch's Inglewood Sentinels and "Chief" Newman's Covina Colts tangle for the Southern California championship. The winner of the Inglewood-Covina struggle will tackle the champions of Northern California for the State championship on the 24th inst., but that game will take place either at San Mateo or Lodi.

Coach Badenoch is building his attack around his speedy set of backs, Earl Rees, Alex Sherman, Wild Bill Albany and George Buchanan, while stress is also being laid on the Inglewood-Covina struggle will take place either at San Mateo or Lodi.

And not only will the preps be making their final bow of the season Saturday, but Jack Farmer, pro- prietor of the Exposition Park mixing bowl, announces that the Inglewood-Covina game will be the last foot- ball struggle played in the Coliseum this year. After the Sentinels and Colts have settled title supremacy, Mr. Farmer will remove his derby hat, take off his coat, roll up his sleeves, and then order some of his many assistants to roll up the side lines and put them away in moth balls until next fall. Although Covina still remains a tober 2, last, Archie played a few minutes—long enough to snag a rifle shot from the unerring arm of Hoyt Winstlett and score one of the three touchdowns that the Tide made against the Commodores. The following week, against Mississippi Argles, Taylor suffered a broken bone in his right hand that caused the member to be encased in plaster, where it remained until Thanksgiving. How Archie got into the game against Georgia Tech and took a Winstlett pass for a touchdown, how he was shot into the fray against Syracuse—Alabama's "Joey" call—and took a pass that put the ball in good scoring distance, and how he rang up two touchdowns against Georgia in less than fifteen minutes are headlines of the 1926 season.

Alabama has lacked a Hubert and a Mack Brown this year, critics generally agree. Archie Taylor may not be quite so spectacular in 1927 as Mack Brown was in his prime, but you can't convince Crimson followers that he won't be one of the outstanding backs of the season and Taylor will have it over Mack Brown in consistency and in defensive powers.

With Taylor looming as one half-back, it will be Capt. "Red" Barnes at quarter, Tolbert (Red) Brown at the other half and Herschel Caldwell, the slim blond boy, at full. On offense, however, Caldwell's function- ing at full will be merely nominal, since he plays Winstlett's end while the peering demon comes into the backfield.

ANNULMENTS BY ROTA EXPLAINED

Method of Cutting Nuptial Ties Told by Church

Holy Tribunal Compared to Court of Appeals

Case of Former Ambassador Childs Reviewed

ROME, Dec. 14. (P)—Continued un-founded reports of annulment of marriages by the Holy Rota, as in the case of Richard Washburn Child, former Ambassador to Italy, has brought an explanation from Vatican circles of the procedure which must be followed in such cases.

The Holy Rota, it is stated, is a tribunal of appeal, hearing cases referred to it by other and lower ecclesiastical courts. A couple desiring annulment under Catholic canon law must appeal first to the diocesan court in the place where the marriage was contracted, or, if that is impossible, at least to the court in the place where the parties reside.

It is further declared that the procedure testifies to the church's severe and scrupulous attitude toward such cases, since at least two judgments and two sentences by the diocesan and rota courts are exacted before annulment or refusal of annulment becomes definite.

Even after these two steps it is possible to appeal to the Pope, who can always reopen a case, either having it retried by the rota or submitted to a special commission of cardinals appointed by him.

In some ways this procedure, it is declared, resembles that of the American Federal courts, with the diocesan court corresponding to the district courts, the rota the circuit courts, and the Pope, aided by his legal and ecclesiastical advisers, the Supreme Court.

In the case of the former Ambassador a divorce was granted Mrs. Child by a Paris civil tribunal early last month. If either or both parties desired annulment of their marriage by the Catholic Church, the procedure necessitates an appeal to the diocesan court either in the place where the marriage was contracted or the place of residence.

Unless such a step was taken long before the civil court in Paris granted their divorce, it is pointed out, there has not yet been time for even a diocesan sentence, and preliminary investigation usually takes four or five months and must prove the existence of one of those rare "impediments" of canon law warranting a sentence of annulment.

PEACE ROLE TO BE TRIED BY RUMANIA

Bucharest May Offer Its Services as Mediator in Italo-Jugo-Slav Row

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Dec. 14. (P)—Rumania is planning to offer its services as mediator between Italy and Jugo-Slavia in their controversy over the Italo-Albanian Treaty. This was announced in diplomatic circles and also published in the newspapers, without eliciting any denial from the government.

Rumania will propose a Balkan pact, similar to the Locarno pact. This is rather a delicate situation, owing to the fact that Rumania last September concluded a treaty of friendship with Italy while she was a member of the Little Entente, in which Jugo-Slavia is prominent, and the disruption of which, reports say, is threatened by the Italo-Albanian accord.

The Rumanian Minister at Belgrade, Theodor Emandt, has been requested by the Foreign Office here, the announcement asserts, to present this viewpoint to the Jugo-Slavian Cabinet. Rumania is desirous of avoiding a new orientation in the foreign policy of Belgrade, which might place the two countries in two different political camps. Rumania's main aim, it is declared, is to save the Little Entente at all costs.

ITALY KEEPING EUROPE ASTIR

Foreign Ambitions Forcing Much Juggling

Britain May Take Syria and Give Rome Kenya

Mediterranean to be Scene of Naval Game

LONDON, Dec. 14. (Exclusive) Premier Mussolini's foreign ambitions still are keeping Europe alert.

The British Admiralty is planning to hold the joint naval maneuvers of the Mediterranean and Atlantic fleets in Mediterranean waters. The naval games will be held from January to March, ostensibly as a demonstration of empire defense in keeping open the communication lines in the Mediterranean.

Information also is current in London to the effect that the transfer of the Syrian mandate to Great Britain was seriously discussed before Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain left the League of Nations meeting at Geneva. The plan, which is reported Sir Austen Chamberlain left the British Cabinet, is that Great Britain will satisfy, in a measure, the Italian desire for colonies by ceding to Italy a portion of Kenya, which would be joined up with Italian Somaliland.

This is similar to the recently circulated report which the Foreign Office then denied. The districts around Victoria Lake are mentioned now, in return for this, it is said, France will give up Syria to Great Britain, to whom the mandate is of considerable value, as it borders on Palestine.

Foreign Minister Aristide Briand and Sig. Stojilo previously agreed in principle to the transaction.

It is further learned that Twedd Russell, the Turkish Foreign Minister, has summoned the Turkish ambassadors at Rome, London and Athens to Ankara for a meeting to discuss Greek affairs and the new situation in Europe caused by Germany's entry into the League of Nations. The situation in the Balkans, caused by the Italo-Albanian treaty also is of considerable interest to the Turkish diplomats, who are hesitating between the League and the soviet promises.

IRON TRADE IN WESTERN AREA QUIET

Movement of Cast Pipe is Only Exception; Demand in Other Lines Negligible

BY DON FARRIDGE

(Associated Editor, Iron Trade Series)

With the exception of the movement of cast-iron pipe, activity in the iron trade was limited to small amounts of structural projects ready for release. It is thought that few of these will be closed until after the first of the year.

Demand for standard bar steel appears at low ebb and local producers are operating on slender schedules. Little improvement in the condition is looked for until the first of January. Small-lot buying constituted the only activity in the concrete-bar market. Interest is centered in the 2250-ton lot for the Coolidge Dam project in Arizona, the contract for which has just been awarded to the American Steel & Wire Co. of Los Angeles. Pending business exceeds 5000 tons.

No awards of importance are expected in the pipe market. Pending business aggregates over 12,000 tons. Bids have been opened on 500 tons for a pipe line for the East Bay Water Company, Oakland, and on a pipe line of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, calling for 775 tons. The Shell Oil Company will take new bids on the first lot, for nine 45,000-barrel tanks, involving 1800 tons. Bids will be opened next week on the Yakima pipe line, requiring 3000 tons. Prices are firm at 230 cents c.i.f.

Movement of structural material was by no means large and awards were all confined to lots of less than 100 tons. New inquiries include two apartment-houses in San Francisco involving 300 tons each, and a war memorial building in Oakland calling for 100 tons. Pending business exceeds 30,000 tons, with over 10,000 tons additional in the offing. Prices are firm at 1.33 cents c.i.f.

Los Angeles placed 686 tons of cast-iron pipe with B. Nicol & Co., 113 tons with the American Cast Iron Pipe Company, and 583 tons with Grinnell Company. The National Cast Iron Pipe Company was low bidder on 2000 tons for Sacramento. New inquiries included 1118 tons for Glendale and 543 tons for Spokane. Pending business aggregates 4400 tons.

XXIX.—ABILITY TO EARN IS PRIME SECURITY

Many investors in their analysis of security values are inclined to attach too much importance to the value of the property pledged under a bond issue, and too little to the borrower's ability to make money in his business. They imagine that if a particular issue is well secured, that is, if the value of the mortgaged property is largely in excess of the amount of the bond issue, the bonds are very desirable, and there is no need to carry the investigation further. Such a rule, however, does not always hold good.

The property pledged to secure a bond issue is held to reimburse the bondholder in case the borrower fails to live up to his agreements to pay interest and principal. It is of obvious importance, therefore, that the value of this property be great enough to bring a price sufficient to pay the bondholders in full, should it become necessary to foreclose. But it is possible to conceive that this property may be of less value than its actual value or cost in a forced sale. A highly specialized plant or property—

Possibilities Believed to be Still Great in Developing Power and Light Field.

BY RALPH WENDERSHOT

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. (Exclusive)—The growth of the power and lighting industry in recent years has been so swift that the question naturally arises as to whether the business, as a whole, has not been overextended. Those who have purchased securities of companies engaged in that business are also wondering just what the future holds in the way of added security through expansion.

To these questions competent authorities answer that the possibilities are still tremendous and that preparations are going ahead for their development at a rapid pace. While it is probably true, they admit, that the cream of the business has already been taken in many sections and that competition will be expected to become keener as time goes on, it is also true that the cost of extending properties to take care of this increased load will be much smaller proportionately than that of initial installations.

A company that has attracted more than the ordinary amount of attention in recent years by the rapidity of its growth and one which only recently placed in operation one of the largest power plants in the country, thereby reflecting the optimism of its management, is the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey. Within the last three and one-half years it has added more than $160,000,000 to the value of its system, of which nearly $140,000,000 represents addition to property value of subsidiaries.

Despite its swift growth, the company on both the preferred and common stocks of the Public Service Corporation has been held by the board of directors, according to advice of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The assessment becomes delinquent January 15, next, with public auction February 10.

Will Reduce Board. Stockholders of the Central Investment Corporation, owning the Los Angeles Biltmore Hotel property, will consider a proposition at the annual meeting on February 14, next, to reduce the board of directors from thirty-three to nine members. The present board is handicapped by the difficulty of obtaining a quorum for the regular meetings.

Price Correction. Owing to an error in telegraphic transmission, the price of the Interstate Public Service Company 5 per cent bonds advertised yesterday as Halsey, Stuart & Co. syndicate was stated as 99 and interest. The correct price is 98 and interest, yielding 5-1-4 per cent to the purchaser.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. (Exclusive)—The cotton market was again firmly held today with a moderate amount of further trade buying and some covering of shorts the feature. Prices were advanced 10 to 15 points from the quotations of the previous day, the market being held by a plan for 10 to 15 over Saturday's closing. It brought January up to 12.05c, March 12.10c, May 12.20c, July 12.30c and October of the next crop 12.50c.

Enough local profit-taking and fresh southern selling developed to send prices off 10 to 15 points from the quotations of the previous day, the market being held by a plan for 10 to 15 over Saturday's closing. It brought January up to 12.05c, March 12.10c, May 12.20c, July 12.30c and October of the next crop 12.50c.

The Census Bureau's report on American mill consumption, announced at the opening, was bullish. It made total American mill consumption for 1925, 2,224,259 bales against 2,041,000, an average of 554,000 bales a month or 7,008,000 lbs. of cotton. Yesterday's exports were 69,163 bales bringing the total from August 1 to date to 4,600,000, against a direct 112,000 in the same time last year.

This shows how rapidly this season's bumper crop is being absorbed with prices on a severe basis. Zero weather prevailed today over Oklahoma with the cold wave extending through Texas and the central States of the belt.

FINAL ACTION STARTS ON PICO WIDENING

The City Council yesterday instructed City Attorney Stephens to present for adoption the final ordinance authorizing the widening to 100 feet of Pico street, from Santa Fe avenue to Alvarado street. Protests against the improvement had been denied. The Street Opening and Widening Committee, after hearing objections to the proposed street lines in the vicinity of Main street and Maple avenue, recommended that these objections be denied.

Death Watch Ready for Duty at Federal Grand Jury Hearing in Rum Conspiracy Trial

MANY FACED BY LIQUOR CHARGES

Deputy Marshals and Armed Guards in Evidence

Eye to be Kept on Corneo in Fear of New Break

Final Delay Believed Ended in Path of Indictments

For the first time since the indictment more than a year ago of the Santa Fe mail handle, the death watch inaugurated by United States Marshal Sittel will be employed inside and outside the Federal grand jury rooms today when evidence is presented against California rum runners.

All the deputy marshals available and six heavily armed guards will be in attendance when the jury meets to decide the fate of more than half a hundred accused liquor-smuggling chiefs. Martin Pitt, Vincent Mangione and Eddie Rice are the deputies entrusted with the safety of the grand jury members, several of whom have requested protection from the government.

The effort of Frank Corneo, three accused under Federal laws of dealing in illicit beverages, to escape in the corridors of the Federal Building Monday has caused U. S. Atty. Mr. Nab and Marshal Sittel to institute a close watch against another outbreak when Corneo is scheduled to appear before the jury this morning.

The government has given every consideration to information seeking to divulge information about rum-running activities in Southern California and S. H. Elmer, head of the intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau in Southern California, was busy the past week checking and rechecking the statements of more than a dozen who have told what they know.

It is expected that Corneo will be confronted with these statements and given a chance to answer the account with the government or stand on his constitutional rights of no "confession."

The grand jury had been delayed more than half a year in returning indictments on rum runners the past three weeks but officials have kept a close mouth on the reasons for the added consideration.

The grand jury in San Francisco returned forty-two indictments within twenty-four hours, naming officials said to be in the service of a Canadian liquor concern. And it was expected that the Los Angeles jury, meeting a few days later, would be equally prompt.

SUN MAKES HIT WITH PRINCE Ex-Maharajah Becomes Out-door Fan

Sir Tukoji Raja and Miss N. A. Miller

SIR TUKOJI RAJA, ex-Maharajah of Indore, is finding Los Angeles more to his liking during his present visit than he did during the 15 days spent here before going to the Grand Canyon.

The principal reason is that the weather is now putting on one of its best shows in the way of sunshine and blue skies. The prince is getting more and more into the winter time and he is taking full advantage of this opportunity. He spends much time in the open with Miss N. A. Miller, a member of his party.

Secretary H. B. McCluskey and members P. A. Reid and Thomas Madcock, Chairman C. G. Vandeybe in California and McGowan, another member, may not be present.

It is evident that the committee is taking no olive branch along and that slight expectation is felt of reaching an amicable agreement. This is evidenced by the fact that the committee is taking no olive branch along and that slight expectation is felt of reaching an amicable agreement.

It may be noted that no objection to the Boulder Canyon site is expressed by Senator Vawter and Assemblyman Finney. The latter, however, was given, pointing out that Arizona demands the lion's share of the water and complete control of the power.

SWING APPEALS FOR NEWSPAPER AID

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14. (Exclusive)—Congressman Phil D. Swing has appealed to newspapers in his district to co-operate with him in starting a letter-writing campaign designed to hasten the passage of the Swing-Johnson bill by Congress.

"The fight for better dam legislation is now on," said Swing in his message to Imperial Valley publishers. "I appeal to you and through you to your readers for assistance in putting on a letter-writing campaign to win support for our program in other States. Time is short and results must be obtained by March 4, next, when the present Congress ends or the work of introducing bills, conducting hearings and getting reports will have to be done all over again."

The campaign proposed by Swing is being taken up by the Boulder Dam Association and is to be extended all over Southern California.

HAYDEN TALKS ON AGREEMENT HINDRANCES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (AP)—Small differences, which a little "give and take" would settle, were said today by Representative Hayden, Arizona Democrat, to be standing in the way of an agreement between State commissioners of the Lower Colorado River basin in connection with the Colorado River development.

Such agreement, he said, would be based chiefly on how much tax California is willing to pay for the use of power to be developed and distributed for water for irrigation.

The House Irrigation Committee, now engaged in reading the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon bill, is in favor of the States arriving at a suitable compromise, but as the bill stands it is not acceptable to some portions of the House, in that it provides for the Secretary of the Interior to find the method to divide the power in a way to satisfy all.

Both Hayden and Representative Leatherwood, Utah Republican, hold this to be in direct opposition to the Federal Water Power Act.

As well as other articles in the trunk. Asked whether she identified any of the clothing Miss Chaffer said: "I didn't recognize a thing."

PICTURES SHOWN

"Did you recognize the cape-dress?" she was asked.

"I could not recognize it," was her reply.

Pictures of Mrs. McPherson taken on her departure for the Holy Land were displayed to the jury and compared with a blue serge cape and dress which repose in the trunk. From these pictures the jury was enabled to learn of the change of the one worn by the evangelist when she left for Jerusalem this year.

Mr. Ryan related to the grand jury the findings of his investigation which he had made in preliminary hearing of the evangelist, and Mrs. Wiseman also told her story of the "blue X" head.

The remaining witnesses to be called today before the grand jury were registered at H. G. Cornell from April 24, last, the day Mrs. McPherson returned from the Holy Land, until she was found dead in the trunk last and checked out of the hotel.

RADIO MAN'S 'ARREST' COSTLY AT $10,000 MARK

CHICAGO, Dec. 14. (Elychive)—Kenneth G. Ormiston, elusive radio man in the Almeda Temple McPherson conspiracy case, who voluntarily accompanied "private captors" this far westward week ago, surrendered over a consideration of $10,000 and further promise of remuneration for his "life's history," to be written by himself, according to reports here today.

While Ormiston was dickering through his Chicago attorney, E. H. S. Martin, with a severe, spreading over the prospect of his arrest and surrender. This program was fixed up, it was said, following the receipt of the official warrant from Los Angeles.

ABSTRACT TIME SET

Ormiston's arrest definitely was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon, following the arrival today of the warrant. The surrender plans indicated by the radio man were being publicly with the business end usually surrounding a prima donna.

Chief of Police Collins of this city said he had been asked to issue a warrant for Ormiston's arrest, but he said, "It can't be done," when State Attorney Grove of Illinois demanded the arrest and following the receipt of the warrant which, Chicago authorities have contended, must be for his possession before they would not officially "arrest" Ormiston.

This afternoon State Attorney Grove called on Chief of Police Collins and demanded Ormiston's arrest. Collins declared that to be an impossibility because he did not know where Ormiston's hiding place is located, but that the radio man is being sought for an official call tomorrow afternoon.

"Well, here's this warrant now, and I want this man placed under arrest," said Collins.

"It can't be done," Collins shot back at Grove. Because no one's located him, he said, "I can't do it." But I have an understanding with Ormiston's attorney, E. H. S. Martin, that the radio man will call on me tomorrow at 10 o'clock and submit to arrest. All I can do is sit here and wait."

ENAG IN CAREER

And while officials were continuing the search for Ormiston, the radio man's career was being traced back to his early days in the radio business. It was reported that he had been in the radio business for many years and had been successful in many ways.

According to Martin it appears that Ormiston and his sponsor may get together to make a radio broadcast. The amount that is to be paid him for his "life's story" is being discussed. Although Martin said he will turn over the story to the radio man, he is destined to write the story all in the same manner as he has done in the past.

Bride's Death Charged to "Inhuman Treatment"

Gross Details of Girl's Beating Revealed

Mother Says Her Daughter Blamed Fugitive

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 14.—A story of crime as revolting as any ever recorded in the annals of the Los Angeles County Coroner's office was related here today by witnesses at the inquest into the death of pretty Cornelia Buttles Murphy, bride of less than a month, who died here Saturday as the result of a savage beating.

It required less than five minutes for the coroner's jury, after listening to the shocking details, to decide that her husband, Lee Daniel Murphy, was responsible for her death and recommended that he be apprehended and dealt with according to law.

Murphy is now a fugitive and police of the entire Coast are hunting him on a charge of murder in the first degree.

High lights of the testimony of the witnesses included declarations that the girl had charged before her death that her husband, to whom she was married in Fresno on November 17, last, in addition to beating her with his fists, kicking her and pushing her with the handle end of his belt, forced her to submit to incredible indignities.

During the inquest, which, the coroner said, was held in the presence of relatives and friends, heard nearly two hours, Murphy told his young bride, the testimony revealed, that he would kill her if she made an outcry. Partly because of the fear of publicity and partly because she feared he would make good, his threats, Mrs. Murphy, witnesses said, bore the torture in silence and would pass into a state of semi-consciousness from time to time.

When Mrs. Murphy was asked to give permission to carry passage from Beverly Hills instead of Santa Monica, she refused to do so.

The citizens expressed personal preferences for bus travel and some stated they would like to carry passage from Beverly Hills instead of Santa Monica, she refused to do so.

AIR EXPRESS TO EXPAND SYSTEM

In recapitulation of influences throughout the West in support of an all-western service.

The active interest taken by Mr. Fisher and the enthusiasm which he imported to his industrial associates in San Francisco through the California Development Association, which he had been organizing as an all-western enterprise, and for the purpose of the proposed expansion of the service, was a strong economic alliance among them.

"By voting to increase the capitalization of Western Air Express, Inc., its stockholders have paved the way for giving effect to the proposal for an all-western enterprise and for providing the financial necessary to extend present operations to the Chicago-San Francisco unit of the transcontinental system, should the Western Air Express, Inc., be awarded the all-mail contract on that line."

LEADS IN AIR MAIL

In the eight months of operation on the local line, the service of Western Air Express, Inc., has shown an aggregate of more than 300,000 miles without mechanical mishap of other than very minor nature. On only two occasions has dispatch of air mail over this route been delayed because of mechanical failure of its equipment and almost 300 passengers have flown the 600-mile route without inconvenience of any kind.

The dependability of the service has been a factor in the building public confidence with the result that Southern California has come within 100 miles to recognition as the heaviest per-capita user of air mail in the world. The daily flight of the service over the local line is said to represent more than one-fifth of all the air mail in the nation.

Decision of the Postmaster-General to turn the transcontinental line over to private operation is said to have given rise to widespread demand throughout the West that the section west of Chicago be operated by western interests.

The interest in the section west of Chicago is said to be destined to points west of the Rocky Mountains and by far the major portion of this volume derives from business needs of the great time of the Pacific Coast.

Esterbrook was a classmate of Miss Buttles at the Pacific College of Music and a witness to her wedding.

San Pedro interests pointed out that by the breakwater plan tunneling under the whole of San Pedro's business and residence districts will be necessary, and that the sewage must also be pumped to seaward. Either they were not any other way, they were not.

Incidentally, if there is any one who knows what the McPherson case is all about, why, I wish he would let me know.

Report was issued that final negotiations are being completed for a thirty-year lease for a building on the south side of Seventh street between Broadway and Hill street, according to M. R. Randolph, president of the Wootton Brothers Company, who is fostering the project.

The site is known as 315-320 West Seventh street. Mr. Randolph said it is a 231,100 sq. ft. lot. The ground is now being cleared in view of the fact that the building is to be a height-limit theater in the project.

Plans on store now covering the site will expire so that building operations can commence about March 1, he declared.

Wootton Brothers Company also reported a ten-year lease to the King's Theater Company. The store room is located at 801 South Broadway. The company is now being cleared in view of the fact that the building is to be a height-limit theater in the project.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Among the hostesses of the week was Mrs. Francis Thomas Copple (Lillian Martha Post) who entertained with a Dutch luncheon and bridge yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwin Post in South Rosemore avenue. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Guendolin Walters, fiancée of Warren Meeker of Glendale, and Mrs. Henry Boliman (Dorothy Ball) of Honolulu, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Blanche Ball, Mrs. Boliman entertained with an affair at her Honolulu home last summer in honor of Mrs. Copple, when the latter was in Hawaii on her honeymoon.

The decorations carried out a gold and green color scheme and the centerpiece was of chrysanthemums, lighted by tall yellow candles. Mrs. Post assisted her daughter in receiving the guests, who included Mrs. Walters, Mrs. C. M. Crow, Mrs. Thomas A. Dempsey, Mrs. M. Walters, Mrs. Jenni Salles, Mrs. Boliman, Mrs. Blanche Ball, Mrs. Geraldine Burke, Mrs. Lenore Lavitt, Mrs. Donald King, Mrs. Chester Taft, Mrs. Donald Alton, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, Mrs. Alice Jones, Mrs. Ruth Woods, Mrs. Juanita Urbabea, Mrs. Laura Payne, Mrs. Leslie Cunningham, Mrs. Holmes Bowers, Mrs. Arthur Ferguson, Mrs. S. Johnson, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Evelyn Crow, Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mrs. William A. Somers, Mrs. Carmen Belknap, Mrs. Ted Collins, Mrs. Edna Lucile Ruwe, Mrs. Alice Small, Mrs. Philip Leishman, Mrs. Adelle Brown, Mrs. H. C. Lewis, Mrs. Boyce Treadle, Mrs. Nellie Mann, Mrs. Leslie Dehart, Mrs. Betty Harrod, Mrs. Deborah Fredericks, Mrs. Edgar De Rutter, Mrs. Pauline Renger, Mrs. Evelyn Meeker and Miss Virginia Thom.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Post entertained with a supper party at their summer home in Santa Monica, thirty-five guests being bidden.

Coming from the north Friday morning to pass the holidays with Mrs. Dent's mother, Mrs. Walter Lindsey, at her home on South Figueroa street, Mr. and Mrs. Hawthorne Kingsbury Dent (Dorothy Lindsey Pitt) will be welcomed by their many friends in Los Angeles. Their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Dent have made their home in Seattle, Wash.

Among the additions to society in the Southland are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frederick Foster and their daughter, Miss Fouchette Maudie Foster, who are planning to spend the winter here. Mr. Foster is an authority on auction bridge and came west in the late summer, while Mrs. Foster and her daughter arrived several weeks ago. Miss Foster having driven her automobile all the way across the country from Sweden, Mass., their home. The Fosters have taken a house at 730 South Coronado street and are planning to pass a portion of every year here, so delighted are they with the Southland.

Of more than usual interest in local society circles was the announcement, made late yesterday afternoon by the board of governors of the Junior League in Pasadena, that they had cleared more than $6000 by their dinner-dance and cabaret, given by them at the Billmore last week.

Mrs. Donald O'Melveny was chairman of the affair, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Kelleher, Alfred Wright, Robert Pinkine, Thomas Wooten, Myron Etienne, Robert Hunter, W. N. Bucklin, Jr., Harold B. Landreth, Leet Bissell, Reese Taylor, Lionel Armstrong, Stuart O'Melveny, Gertrude Dulin, Robert Stephenson, Frank Hall, John Barnes Miller, Jr., Philip Thomas, Harold Walters, Alvin Kaine and the Misses Betty Hastings, Louise Macy, Carita Macy and Gertrude Macy, as well as the personnel of the cabaret cast. The cabaret required more than 150 hours for rehearsal.

The league, which seems to be "out for fun," is one of the hardest-working local organizations, and the members are given the "job" of getting all the advance "gift" money for the Community Chest of Pasadena, where the drive is to start in January. Mrs. Frank Hall is chairman of this committee.

Another bit of "work" which the Pasadena Junior League is doing is the organizing of its commission shop, which is now to open in the Crown City, and from present indications it promises to be as great a success as the shop which the Junior League of Los Angeles is running at 811 South Carondelet, at Wilshire Boulevard.

Adeline W. Summer arrived home Monday morning after his annual trip abroad and will be at the Hotel Hayward until the last of February.

Mrs. Isaac Hamdun Jones is entertaining this afternoon with a tea at her home, 444 South Arden Boulevard, when Miss Allison Greenwood will give one of her interesting talks at 8 o'clock. The tea will be served afterward. Miss Greenwood's series at the home of her mother, Mrs. Arthur Edwin Post, 835 South Rosemore avenue, will be followed by several luncheon parties.

One of the prettiest appointed weddings of recent days was that of Miss Elizabeth Martha Martinez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Ballerino, who was married yesterday at 5:15 p.m. at the home of her mother, Mrs. Blanche Ball, 835 South Rosemore avenue. The bride was attended by her bridesmaids, Miss Helen Garcia, in coral georgette, and Miss Helen Garcia, in peach georgette, were bridesmaids. They carried green and white roses in the pastel shades. Lydia Carivarco was flower girl and carried a basket filled with baby shoes.

Charles Martinez served as best man and the ushers included Ernest Benavides and William Benavides. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Parrett left on their wedding trip. After their return they will make their home in Portland, Or.

At Southern Branch Alpha Xi chapter of Alpha Xi Delta sorority of the University of California at Los Angeles had the fathers of the members as guests at an informal dinner given at the chapter house in 877 North Edgemont. Places were marked for sixty at a long banquet table. A floral piece fashioned of pineapples was the central feature of the table.

Miss Ruth Frost was in charge of the dinner. The new pledges presented a program, consisting of a reading by Miss Peggy Hockell, a piano solo by Miss Virginia Chapin, Sigma Delta Pi, professional music sorority, entertained the Choral Club, who sang a semi-formal dance at the Hollywood Woman's Club. Louise Coop, director of music at the university, was the guest of the evening. Among the new pledges to the organization are the Misses Arlene Alsup, Helen Berner, Sylvia Hickey and Celeste Ryan.

Miss Josephine Benavides, in peach georgette, assisted as maid of honor, while Miss Emily Benavides, in coral georgette, and Miss Helen Garcia, in peach georgette, were bridesmaids. BRIDGE GIVEN FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Honolulu Guest Also Honored at Affair

Mrs. Francis Thomas Copple

One of the attractive hostesses of the week is Mrs. Francis Thomas Copple, who entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwin Post, 835 South Rosemore avenue. A Dutch luncheon and bridge was given in honor of Miss Guendolin Walters, fiancée of Warren Meeker of Glendale, and Mrs. Henry Boliman (Dorothy Ball) of Honolulu, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Blanche Ball, Mrs. Boliman entertained with an affair at her Honolulu home last summer in honor of Mrs. Copple, when the latter was in Hawaii on her honeymoon.

The decorations carried out a gold and green color scheme and the centerpiece was of chrysanthemums, lighted by tall yellow candles. Mrs. Post assisted her daughter in receiving the guests, who included Mrs. Walters, Mrs. C. M. Crow, Mrs. Thomas A. Dempsey, Mrs. M. Walters, Mrs. Jenni Salles, Mrs. Boliman, Mrs. Blanche Ball, Mrs. Geraldine Burke, Mrs. Lenore Lavitt, Mrs. Donald King, Mrs. Chester Taft, Mrs. Donald Alton, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, Mrs. Alice Jones, Mrs. Ruth Woods, Mrs. Juanita Urbabea, Mrs. Laura Payne, Mrs. Leslie Cunningham, Mrs. Holmes Bowers, Mrs. Arthur Ferguson, Mrs. S. Johnson, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Evelyn Crow, Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mrs. William A. Somers, Mrs. Carmen Belknap, Mrs. Ted Collins, Mrs. Edna Lucile Ruwe, Mrs. Alice Small, Mrs. Philip Leishman, Mrs. Adelle Brown, Mrs. H. C. Lewis, Mrs. Boyce Treadle, Mrs. Nellie Mann, Mrs. Leslie Dehart, Mrs. Betty Harrod, Mrs. Deborah Fredericks, Mrs. Edgar De Rutter, Mrs. Pauline Renger, Mrs. Evelyn Meeker and Miss Virginia Thom.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Post entertained with a supper party at their summer home in Santa Monica, thirty-five guests being bidden.

Coming from the north Friday morning to pass the holidays with Mrs. Dent's mother, Mrs. Walter Lindsey, at her home on South Figueroa street, Mr. and Mrs. Hawthorne Kingsbury Dent (Dorothy Lindsey Pitt) will be welcomed by their many friends in Los Angeles. Their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Dent have made their home in Seattle, Wash.

Among the additions to society in the Southland are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frederick Foster and their daughter, Miss Fouchette Maudie Foster, who are planning to spend the winter here. Mr. Foster is an authority on auction bridge and came west in the late summer, while Mrs. Foster and her daughter arrived several weeks ago. Miss Foster having driven her automobile all the way across the country from Sweden, Mass., their home. The Fosters have taken a house at 730 South Coronado street and are planning to pass a portion of every year here, so delighted are they with the Southland.

Of more than usual interest in local society circles was the announcement, made late yesterday afternoon by the board of governors of the Junior League in Pasadena, that they had cleared more than $6000 by their dinner-dance and cabaret, given by them at the Billmore last week.

Mrs. Donald O'Melveny was chairman of the affair, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Kelleher, Alfred Wright, Robert Pinkine, Thomas Wooten, Myron Etienne, Robert Hunter, W. N. Bucklin, Jr., Harold B. Landreth, Leet Bissell, Reese Taylor, Lionel Armstrong, Stuart O'Melveny, Gertrude Dulin, Robert Stephenson, Frank Hall, John Barnes Miller, Jr., Philip Thomas, Harold Walters, Alvin Kaine and the Misses Betty Hastings, Louise Macy, Carita Macy and Gertrude Macy, as well as the personnel of the cabaret cast. The cabaret required more than 150 hours for rehearsal.

The league, which seems to be "out for fun," is one of the hardest-working local organizations, and the members are given the "job" of getting all the advance "gift" money for the Community Chest of Pasadena, where the drive is to start in January. Mrs. Frank Hall is chairman of this committee.

Another bit of "work" which the Pasadena Junior League is doing is the organizing of its commission shop, which is now to open in the Crown City, and from present indications it promises to be as great a success as the shop which the Junior League of Los Angeles is running at 811 South Carondelet, at Wilshire Boulevard.

Adeline W. Summer arrived home Monday morning after his annual trip abroad and will be at the Hotel Hayward until the last of February.

Mrs. Isaac Hamdun Jones is entertaining this afternoon with a tea at her home, 444 South Arden Boulevard, when Miss Allison Greenwood will give one of her interesting talks at 8 o'clock. The tea will be served afterward. Miss Greenwood's series at the home of her mother, Mrs. Arthur Edwin Post, 835 South Rosemore avenue, will be followed by several luncheon parties.

One of the prettiest appointed weddings of recent days was that of Miss Elizabeth Martha Martinez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Ballerino, who was married yesterday at 5:15 p.m. at the home of her mother, Mrs. Blanche Ball, 835 South Rosemore avenue. The bride was attended by her bridesmaids, Miss Helen Garcia, in coral georgette, and Miss Helen Garcia, in peach georgette, were bridesmaids. They carried green and white roses in the pastel shades. Lydia Carivarco was flower girl and carried a basket filled with baby shoes.

Charles Martinez served as best man and the ushers included Ernest Benavides and William Benavides. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Parrett left on their wedding trip. After their return they will make their home in Portland, Or.

Miss Ruth Frost was in charge of the dinner. The new pledges presented a program, consisting of a reading by Miss Peggy Hockell, a piano solo by Miss Virginia Chapin, Sigma Delta Pi, professional music sorority, entertained the Choral Club, who sang a semi-formal dance at the Hollywood Woman's Club. Louise Coop, director of music at the university, was the guest of the evening. Among the new pledges to the organization are the Misses Arlene Alsup, Helen Berner, Sylvia Hickey and Celeste Ryan.

Miss Josephine Benavides, in peach georgette, assisted as maid of honor, while Miss Emily Benavides, in coral georgette, and Miss Helen Garcia, in peach georgette, were bridesmaids. HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Work Done

One very good reason why it is wise for the housewife to do much of her dinner preparation in the morning is so she can really enjoy any afternoon callers that may drop in, without that thought of an unprepared dinner on her mind.

Correct Flow of Gas

A good flow of gas will produce blue cones with purple edges and should be sharp and distinct. Yellow or white flames are wasteful and only deposit soot on the bottom of pots and pans.

Hard on the Teeth

Before broiling steaks or chops wipe them off with a damp cloth to remove any bits of splintered bone that may be clinging to them.

Meat and Nuts

Four ounces of shell nuts equal four ounces of meat in protein substance and more than double the food value. When found difficult to digest, put them through the grinder, as finely ground nuts are much more easily assimilated.

MUSIC COURSE

Program for every branch of Church Music activity. Courses in Voice, Piano, Organ, Violin, Trombone and Euphonium. Instruction in Solo, Quartet, Chorus, and Orchestra. Standard of Technique, and Individual Instruction in Voice, Piano, Organ, Violin, Trombone and Euphonium.

Unusual Days Contests Linking Soap and Complexion Scheme Comes to End

Blond soap or brunette? That was the question of the contest which opened at the Los Angeles Bazaar on Monday night.

It is a sort of round robin, which corresponds with which complexion is preferred, which designated the most popular draws which will be the prize for the contest.

It started when, last summer, the well-known buyer of the Bazaar, one of the most popular of the Bazaar, was on his way to the Bazaar.

DEFICIENT HYDROCHLORIC ACID OF THE STOMACH
There is one thing I never see in your writings or any other writings, and that is, something on Hydrochloric Acid. We have all learned of our mineral elements, vitamins and proteins, but there we get our hydrochloric acid?

I'm troubled with indigestion, and my doctor says my stomach is deficient in hydrochloric acid. Twelve years ago, after a severe stomach and intestinal upset, another doctor told me the same thing, and I was given very dilute hydrochloric acid before and after meals. I was much improved. And this attack came on me rather suddenly. Like everything else, medicines are very high, and I should like to get the acid I need in food, if possible.

Answer: The hydrochloric acid of the stomach is made directly from the chlorides or salts in the blood. We get these salts in the blood we get from all the natural foods. (Highly refined flour, cane sugar, and other highly improved foods will lack these salts.) In addition to these, we take ordinary table salt with our food (most people two or three times too much, probably) so that the sodium chloride needs of the body are adequately met. For this reason, there are no particular foods that you have to depend upon for sodium chloride, and therefore, the chlorides of the blood and the hydrochloric acid of the stomach.

The fact that your glands do not secrete sufficient acid indicates that they are not working well, not especially that they have not had the material with which to make it. The history of indigestion and stomach trouble years before would indicate that you have a chronic condition which has lighted up again.

Usually before there is a lessened secretion of hydrochloric acid (hydrochloria), there is an extra secretion (hyperchloria) or overacid stomach. In all conditions of impairment of the digestive tract (therefore of all the other organs), there has been something wrong in the hygiene, most often in the hygiene of the diet, although, of course, other chronic poisonings can affect them. Perhaps the integrity of the digestive tract of Americans is most often impaired by lack of vitamins in their diet, although it may be impaired when there are a liberal content of vitamins, and the diet is insufficient or overacid or unbalanced in other ways.

There are several things of importance to remember when there is a lessening of hydrochloric acid: (1.) As the antiseptic powers (ability to kill germs) of the stomach depend upon this hydrochloric acid, when it is lacking there is more danger of infections getting by, and so all foods should be sterilized. Fresh vegetables and fruits that are eaten should be even more thoroughly scrubbed and washed than ordinarily. Kellogg advises a solution of hydrogen (ordinary peroxide of hydrogen) one part to twenty of water. The raw fruit and vegetables are allowed to soak in this for five minutes.

It does not in any way impair the taste of the food.

(2.) As the opening and closing of the intestinal end of the stomach depend upon the hydrochloric acid, this function is impaired when it is lessened, so large meals are always to be avoided, and small meals, with not too great a variety, should be more frequently taken.

(3.) (a) The foods must be exceedingly well masticated for the same reason. (b) They must be foods that are not long in digestion. (c) Fat should be used sparingly—two tablespoons a day would cover the physiological needs—as fat delays the passage of foods from the stomach. (d) The diet should be such that there will be frequent evacuation of the bowels. (e) It is considered by some physicians that it is better to avoid the protein of flesh foods, as it putrefies more readily than the vegetable protein. The protein is made up by milk, malted milk, buttermilk and soft cooked eggs. (f) An abundance of fresh fruits should be used, especially the citrus fruits, not only on account of the vitamins, but because their acid helps to supply somewhat the deficiency of the hydrochloric acid. (These acids are oxidized, leaving an alkaline residue so that they will not help cause acidity.) (g) The whole grain breads and cereals should be used instead of the highly refined type, and it is preferable to have bread toasted or dried.

Kellogg states that the use of hot compresses or a hot water bag over the stomach after eating, will perceptibly increase the amount of hydrochloric acid.

Naturally, as in all other disordered conditions and in health, due attention to the other factors of health (sufficient sleep, baths, exercise, fresh air and sunlight, mental poise, etc.) are to be practiced.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Nighty-Night

One Mother Says:
At the same hour every evening, I get baby ready for bed. First I wash his hands and face, then I remove all his clothing and let him wave his arms and legs. I look him over to be sure there are no chafed places, then I lay him across my lap and gently rub his whole body, using long, soothing, rhythmic strokes, which he loves. Then he is ready for a nice fresh nightie and and tucked into bed, and no rocking is needed.

ANNOUNCER HAS
DIFFICULT ROLEPublicity Writers Give Job
Its Glamour"Bennie," Tame Deer, to be at KHJ TonightDirect Advertising by Radio
Fails to Pay

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

When radio publicity writers get out of material most of them seem to think the best bet is to tell about presents received by announcers. Maybe one of the broadcast announcers has received a shark tooth necklace from his friends in the South Sea Islands, or perhaps he has a sack of spuds from an a-muir on an Iowa farm or even a pair of shoes from a Brooklyn factory worker.

But the truth of the matter is that announcers do not receive the huge swatches of gifts they are popularly supposed to look forward to every day.

In the first year of announcing for one of the Los Angeles stations, there was a sack of walnuts from a rancher's family and the other donor unknown, a subscription to a pink journal which usually adorned the reading tables in our territorial parlors and pool parlors.

JOB REQUIRES SKILL

The work of the announcer presents unusual difficulties. He must constantly inject new ideas and novel stunts to keep his old audience and build up a new one. He must not get stale and monotonous or the audience of the air will turn on its heels.

But most announcers will tell you that the picture is much overpainted when it comes to gifts. Except for frank presents, little comes the way of the microphone chief. Most of them prefer it so.

Last week we had a fine evening musical program when Zeoliner's Quartet presented several selections in honor of Mozart's anniversary. Tomorrow night the same aggregation will give a program in honor of Beethoven's birth anniversary.

Beethoven's music is said to sound the height and depth of emotion. It mirrors the beauty and peace of life. It shows the intensity of pain, passionate revolt, tenderness and calm resignation.

Last night the Girls' Glee Club from the Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School gave a half hour program during the Children's Hour.

True, by that A. P. pool who has passed to the great beyond, was a high spot in the program. The club of fifty voices is under the direction of Alice Sturdy with Marie Hanson as accompanist.

At 7:30 Dr. J. D. Dunabee gave a talk on parenthood and ten minutes later, Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, State president of the W.C.T.U. spoke, followed by H. M. Robertson with his weekly talk on dogs.

POWERFUL STATION

VIEW is a 1000-watt Chicago station which has been on the air one month. Its programs have carried to Pacific Coast points. Their first Christmas carol program will be on the air this Friday night at 8:30 o'clock Eastern time, with 100 voices on the air.

Programs of famous composers are being featured by many stations at this time of year. Sousa, Herbert, Dampier, Cushman, Bond, Hadley, Gerhart are names famous in musical annals and entire programs of individual composers' numbers or mixed programs supplied from the collective compositions are high lights.

Bennie, a tame deer, will be brought into the KHJ studio tonight to take part in the children's hour with Uncle John. Even Bennie does not know what part he will take in the 8:30 to 7:30 program. The only way to get the low down on the stunt is to listen in yourself.

Most radio advertisers long ago learned the lesson that direct advertising via radio doesn't pay. A score of national advertisers have long valued their good will advertising at more than a million dollars. Radio, more than any other advertising medium, creates good will but for the direct publicity work its value is nil.

If some commercial concern gives a fine program via the ether train without too much direct advertising for Compactness

These general purpose dry cell tubes, Types C-11 and CX-12, are especially suited to sets wherein filament battery space must be held to a minimum. They are excellent detectors and audio frequency amplifiers. The filament may be heated from a single dry cell. C-11 and CX-12 are identical except for their bases. CX-12 has the standard CX base; C-11 is for replacement purposes in the older types of dry cell receivers.

Consult your radio dealer. He will tell you the right combination of Cunningham Radio Tubes for your receiver.

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 587

The Opposing Forces at Fredericksburg.

by J. CARROLL MANN

WHILE BURNESIDE WAS WAITING ON THE NORTH BANK OF THE RAPPAHANNOCK FOR THE ARRIVAL OF PONTOONS TO BRIDGE THE RIVER, THE CONFEDERATE FORCES HOLDING FREDERICKSBURG WERE STEADILY GROWING IN NUMBERS. BY THE END OF NOVEMBER (1862), LEE, WITH JACKSON'S ARMY, WHICH WAS ON ITS WAY FROM THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY, COULD MUSTER NEARLY 80,000 MEN TO OPPOSE BURNESIDE'S 113,000.

AT FIRST THE FEDERALS HAD THE ADVANTAGE OF POSITION. THEIR GUNS ON STAFFORD HEIGHTS ON THE NORTH BANK COMMANDED THE CITY AND COULD SWEEP THE FLAT COUNTRY THAT STRETCHED A MILE BEYOND.

LEE, THEREFORE, LEFT ONLY A FEW REGIMENTS OF SHARPSHOOTERS IN THE TOWN AND ALONG THE RIVER-FRONT AND TOOK UP A STRONG POSITION ON THE CREST OF THE HILLS THAT LAY BEHIND FREDERICKSBURG. SO THAT THE FEDERALS WOULD HAVE TO ADVANCE ACROSS AN EXPOSED PLAIN TO ATTACK HIM.

ON THE NIGHT OF DEC. 19, 1862, THE BOATS HAVING ARRIVED IN THE EVENING, BURNESIDE COMPLETED HIS PLANS FOR AN ATTACK ON FREDERICKSBURG. HIS ARTILLERY FIRE AND GUNNERY AND GRAND DIVISIONS WERE TO CROSS THE RIVER BY THE UPPER AND LOWER BRIDGES. HOOKER'S GRAND DIVISION WAS TO BE IN RESERVE.

These daily history strips make a unique pictorial history of America. Hundreds are clipping them daily and pasting them in scrapbooks.

OLD PEOPLE TO HAVE PARTY

Seventy-five old people, selected by the Associated Charities, are going to have a bit of Christmas cheer next Tuesday night, when the Progressive Chiropractors' Association gives them a chicken dinner at the Hollywood Methodist Episcopal Church, Vine street and Lexington avenue. Santa Claus will be there with gifts and entertainment, according to Dr. O. Henry Ford, Paul E. Strick, E. P. Webb and L. B. Kelly, in charge of the arrangements.

CAFÉ NOTES

Those thespians who are continually faced with the problem of parking their cars without riding around for several blocks, will find this inconvenience absent now in a popular locality. The Carthy Tea Room, situated directly across from the Carthy Circle Theater, offers a solution both novel and pleasing. Guests wishing to attend the theater may arrange to have dinner in the tea room, may park their cars in the commodious space made available by the tea-room management, and may then attend the show with the satisfaction of knowing that their cars will be properly taken care of until they return.

NEW CAFÉ TO OPEN

The opening tomorrow of the Can Restaurant, located at 137 South Spring street, will add another excellent cafe to that busy street. There is no doubt but that the high quality of the cuisine and the efficient service promised by the management will be reflected in future patronage.

RESERVE FILTERS GUESTS

A group of United States Army Air Service reserve officers who had attended the first fall get-together meeting of this season, several nights ago, proceeded after the meeting to the Cliff Dwellers' Inn on Beverly Boulevard, just off of West First street, to enjoy a most enjoyable program of entertainment and partook of some of the delectable viands from the kitchen of the inn.

STAR GUEST OF HONOR

With Ruth Roland as guest of honor to present the prizes, the semi-finals of the Max Factor prize dancing series will be held at the Montmarque Cafe in Hollywood, this evening.

Al Calaf and his music mob are making them step lively at the Greenwich Village Cafe, 6728 Hollywood Boulevard.

Veteran, Victim of Gas,
Gets Suspended Penalty
Following Conviction

A German mustard gas attack in the last big push of the Allies in 1918, yesterday won leniency for Dominick Guistard from Municipal Judge Stafford, after a jury had convicted him on a charge of possessing a small amount of liquor.

Guistard appeared before the court as co-defendant in one of two possession charges against Alex Mendez - the outgrowth of two raids by Police Sergeant Childers and Officer McRae on the home of the two men at 11721 South Main street on October 20-30, last.

Guistard's attorney called attention to the fact that his client was a World War veteran and had been injured in service. It further developed that Guistard had attempted to care for himself without seeking aid from patriotic organizations.

Judge Stafford imposed a fine of $250 on the veteran on the possession charge, but suspended it on recommendation of Deputy City Prosecutor Eberhard. The suspension was given with the understanding that Guistard seek treatment and aid from the American Legion.

Mendez, who was also represented by Attorney Wallace Davis, was convicted on two counts of possession. Judge Ambrose fined Mendez $750 on each count with alternatives of seventy-five days in jail on each, to run concurrently.

"Asked to illustrate 'luck,'" a school-boy wrote. "One time a man was murdered in the street for his money. But he had left all his money in the office. Luck was 'luck'." (Boomer Transcript.)

EARLY THIS MONTH, on December 3d, the Atwater Kent Manufacturing Company completed its millionth receiving set and started on the second million. The first Atwater Kent radio set was made in 1922.

Anyone who can make and sell a million of anything in four years must be making a product which satisfies those who use it.

Think what that means in a radio set! Atwater Kent owners are satisfied by the appearance and price of their sets when they buy; and they have found that their satisfaction keeps growing in the weeks and months and years of continuous service.

Today people are buying twice as many Atwater Kent Receiving Sets and Speakers as ever before. They are buying Atwater Kent ONE Dial Receivers—the real ONE Dial Receivers that bring in every station within range with a flick of the wrist and without additional secondary devices.

Have an Atwater Kent ONE Dial Receiver and an Atwater Kent Speaker in your home on Christmas morning. It's the 35th day Christmas present for all the family—and a million satisfied Atwater Kent owners are your last proof that it will satisfy you.

VOTES SOARING TO NEW HEIGHTS AS CANDIDATES SWEEP ONWARD

Saturday, December 18, Is Last Day to Determine Winners of Thirty Motor Cars and Other Prizes—9 P.M. the Closing Hour

Thrilled with the spirit of conquest and aroused to the unprecedented opportunity of sharing in the mammoth $50,000 prize distribution to take place in a few days, candidates in The Times famous gift competition are now in the thick of a tremendous vote battle for supremacy that will reach its climax on Saturday night. Vote standings are growing with leaps and bounds, and throughout the eighteen districts comprising the campaign territory the men and women prize aspirants declare they MUST win.

With the final vote schedule, effective throughout this last week, to help them along, candidates in every district are making surprising gains, thus making the final outcome more in doubt than ever. As the race narrows down to the last few days, these candidates with one accord are redoubing their efforts, calling upon their friends to see them through to success, throwing down the gauntlet to competitors, and displaying a fighting spirit that shows they mean business.

In all districts this determination is apparent. Candidates in Los Angeles and suburbs are hopeful that a major portion of the grand prize list will be won in their division, while busy workers in the town throughout Southern California, as well as in Arizona and Nevada, are equally determined that their efforts shall win the greatest rewards. For the candidate who leads the entire field in votes, a beautiful $547 Lincoln Sedan is waiting. The second highest candidate is to receive a $365 Pierce-Arrow sedan. The next four who rank among the first half-dozen leaders of the entire territory will receive a $270 Jordan, $269 Gardner, $2140 Pearson and $1788 Nash, in the order named.

The remaining twenty-four cars are divided, eight to each of the three territorial divisions. These cars include a $1545 Chandler, $1535 Nash, $1495 Oakland, $1195 Chandler, two $955 Pontiacs, six $855 Chrysler coaches, six $855 Essex coaches and six $825 Overland Whippet coaches.

In each of the eighteen districts, into which the divisions are subdivided, will be given a $157.50 Stewart-Warner radio set, another of the same make valued at $52.50, and a $50 cash prize. All remaining candidates who have been active until the end of the campaign will receive 10% cash commission on the amount of their individual new subscription payments turned in.

The final vote schedule, shown on this page, is the supreme opportunity to attain success. It enables candidates to earn thousands upon thousands of votes on new subscriptions turned in this week. Second payments turned in on new subscriptions previously secured also receive the benefit of this increased vote schedule. Candidates are finding "second payments" a prolific source of votes by the simple process of inducing new subscribers whom they had previously secured, to extend their subscriptions for an additional period. Any new subscriptions already turned in may be extended for any period up to the limit of three years.

Among the busy workers who are making this last week of the campaign a memorable event, are many of whom it was thought they had but little chance, judging by their present vote standings. In the last few days they have been giving some serious thought to their possibilities, with the result that in quite a few cases surprises are expected at the end that will send the top-candidate once down to defeat. Over-confidence is the biggest handicap under which a candidate could labor. This unwelcome attribute causes perhaps more regrets than anything else in a campaign of this kind. The only safe method to adopt that will protect a candidate from defeat is to spend every possible minute from now until the end in search of new subscriptions, for these bring votes in winning quantities.

Persistent reports that several dark horses are liable to develop in the race are given color by latest developments. Just what these candidates are apt to accomplish is uncertain. Several cases exist where friends have taken up the battle in behalf of their favorites, and votes are literally falling up. This uncertainty, of course, is putting others on guard, and it is thought to be inevitable that the race will be a close one. Winning margins are likely to be small. Indeed, it may so happen that only a few subscriptions would be enough to turn defeat into victory, and vice versa.

The campaign comes to an end at 9 p.m., Saturday, December 18, whereupon the judges, to be announced later, will undertake the official and final count of votes and announce the winners.

Read These Final Instructions Carefully

As a matter of course, and to guard against the possibility of late candidates during these last days of the campaign, final instructions are herewith appended. All candidates, especially those who live in the outside districts, should read and watch every line carefully.

1. All remittances mailed from now on should be mailed special delivery to insure their reaching us in time. If you live outside of Los Angeles, and intend to mail subscriptions, take the precaution to find out what time your post-office closes.

2. You are allowed the privilege of changing your subscription up to Saturday, December 18, 9 p.m. This gives you the opportunity to work up to the last minute. In sending your subscription by mail, have them in your post-office before Saturday, December 18, 9 p.m. These subscriptions must reach the campaign office of the Los Angeles Times, First and Broadway, Los Angeles, California, by Tuesday noon, December 19, and show a postmark of having been mailed on or before 9 p.m., December 18. The Los Angeles Times will not be responsible for any mail even though correctly postmarked, which fails to arrive within the specified time.

3. All remittances should be carefully addressed to the Campaign Department, The Times, Los Angeles, California. This will insure absolute accuracy and will prevent any letters from going astray. The name and one special delivery stamp on all mail.

4. Examine your vote ballots carefully and see that the correct number of votes have been listed on same. Pay particular attention to ballots issued on second payments, and be sure that proper remittances and votes have been credited. If there are any corrections to be made, notify the Campaign Manager in person or by writing, and return the ballots for prompt correction. The campaign department will not be responsible for clerical errors unless notification is given, whereupon correction will be made.

5. Under no condition will votes be transferred from one candidate to another. This is an absolute rule and will be strictly enforced.

6. Every subscription turned in will be verified and no return will be credited until this is done. All votes secured on old subscriptions turned in on an new will be credited. No votes will be credited in return and no return will be credited until your subscription is marked correctly.

7. Second payments must be marked as such on the remittance check. Also put down the amount of the first payment as final proper vote may be given.

8. All remittances must be in the campaign office after Wednesday, December 15, should be either postal money order, express money order, certified check or draft. Only bank checks will be accepted. No cash or money will be accepted. The names of subscribers will be supplied later. Every subscription must be accompanied by the usual remittance check, properly filled out.

9. ABSOLUTELY NO MONEY WILL BE REFUNDABLE ON SUBSCRIPTIONS AND IN DUBIOUS THIS CAMPAIGN.

10. Prompt acknowledgment will be made of all subscriptions and remittances received from candidates. If you do not receive prompt acknowledgment of subscriptions and remittances sent, and be sure to notify the campaign manager immediately.

All letters postmarked within time limit will be accepted. Letters should bear a special delivery stamp as they must reach their destination by Tuesday noon, December 19. Extreme care should also be used in making out remittance checks. Give full name and complete address of subscribers, and write plainly: "DO NOT MARK 'OLD' SUBSCRIPTIONS AS 'NEW'." Every subscription turned in will be verified before votes are issued, and on "retires" the votes will be forfeited.

Gen. Obregon Charges De la Huerta With Inspiring Yaqui Revolt

Twenty-three policemen will receive $2214.40 each as a result of a court decision recently won by the city. Prior to May, 1920, the pension board had ruled that the widows of police and firemen who died in the line of duty should receive one-third of the salary of the deceased officer or fireman for the month and year in which he died. The City Attorney, however, ruled that the pension board's decision was not challenged when Mrs. Home filed suit on an equality with the pension board. CARE URGED TO SAVE CHILDREN

Motorists Told of Expense Attached to School Traffic Duties

Because 10 per cent of all motorists are always in a hurry the police department spends $42,000 for yellow paint and the wages of sixteen men annually, to keep painted school crossings in condition.

Attention to that fact was called yesterday by Inspector of Detectives Philinson in his daily talk on accident-prevention over KJH.

"We also place police officers during school hours at these crossings to enforce the traffic law," the officer added.

"If we, as the American public, could only respect its full rights of the school child to go and come from school in safety an enormous saving would be effected."

"Would it not be better to stop and see the smile of a child at a school crossing than to hear the scream after the child is hurt?"

EMPLOYEES TO HEAR DISCOURSE ON GAS

W. M. Henderson, superintendent of gas distribution for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, will be the chief speaker at a meeting of employees and their families this evening in the assembly hall of the company's main office building.

The meeting is one of a series. "Orchestral numbers by a company orchestra, and a motion picture showing how electric cable is made will complete the program."

ASSERTED PLOT OF GADD TOLD

City Employees Cite Plans to Oust Engineer Shaw

Scheme Declared Result of Storm Drain Testimony

Alley Reported Slated for Post as Successor

That City Engineer Shaw's testimony in the West Adams storm-drain investigation and his refusal to approve of and authorize the payment for $90,000 worth of "extras," installed in the West Jefferson-street storm drain by Peter R. Gadd, contractor for both jobs, resulted in a drive by Gadd and Public Works Commissioner Dunn to have Shaw removed and replaced by A. W. Alley, president of the Municipal Engineers' Association, was the gist of testimony given yesterday before the City Council's Public Works Committee.

The new investigation opened by the committee yesterday was the result of the filing of an affidavit with the Council by four engineers who had been prominent in the affairs of the association, which is composed of 900 technical employees of the city engineering department. They were George A. Heap, Frank R. Clove, Allen S. Baker and C. P. Francisco. They were witnesses at the hearing yesterday. They told under oath of the putting through the executive committee of the association by President Alley of a resolution which, they testified, Alley had said was "falsified" by Contractor Gadd and Commissioner Dunn asking the Board of Public Works to place Alley in charge of the West Jefferson-street storm drain. The resolution was presented to the Board of Public Works on August 24, while the West Adams storm-drain controversy was at its height.

Baker testified that W. C. Steele, president in the association, offered to bet $1000 that Alley would be City Engineer within sixty days. Clove testified that Alley had said that Mayor Cryer had offered to make Alley City Engineer, but Alley said that he had declined it, but was ready to accept it then, and the first step was to place Alley in charge of the West Jefferson-street storm drain.

The committee confined the witnesses to testimony relating to the city engineering and the engineering department and the Board of Public Works, and on this point Clove testified that Alley had said that "the man we want to get is Shaw."

President Alley of the association issued a statement yesterday declaring that the charges made against him in the affidavit of the four engineers were not true. He denied that he was a candidate for office of City Engineer and anyone else to have the City Engineer removed.

At the conclusion of yesterday's hearing Chairman Randall announced that the hearing would be resumed this afternoon.

PENWOMAN ARRIVES TO VISIT SON

Grace Duffie Boylan Will be Guest in Los Angeles for Holiday Season

Grace Duffie Boylan, author and poetess and so-called dean of American newspaper women, will arrive in Los Angeles today to be the guest for a month of her son, Malcolm Stuart Boylan, supervising editor and head of the Fox film title department, and of her daughter, Mrs. Oliver Rose, also a screen writer.

Mrs. Boylan until recently was national president of the League of American Penwomen and has won other literary and club honors. She is the author of a number of novels and books for children.

Although Grace Duffie Boylan continues to write under that name, she is in private life Mrs. Louis Napoleon Goldert, wife of the publisher of the Cotton Oil Press of Memphis, Tenn., between which city and Washington, D. C., the Golderts divide their time.

Mrs. Boylan, who last visited Los Angeles early this year, now is devoting herself to the revival of interest in the literature of the South.

FUNERAL RITES CONDUCTED FOR WESLEY CLARK

Private funeral services for Wesley Clark, pioneer capitalist and realty dealer, who passed away in his sleep Sunday night, were conducted yesterday morning at the family residence, 1401 South St. Andrews Place. Only intimate friends of the family were present.

The services were conducted by Bishop Stephens.

Mr. Clark, who was 74 years of age at the time of his passing, had retired from active business sixteen years ago. He was born in Charlottesville, Tenn., in 1852, and came to Los Angeles in 1908. His active career as a real estate operator lasted over a period of more than twenty years. One of the outstanding events in his business career was the opening of Westmainland Place.

The pioneer leaves a son, W. Russell Clark, and four daughters, Mrs. Reginald Wood, Miss Irene Clark, Mrs. Roughton Metcalf and Mrs. Walter Brunsawig.

CITY ATTORNEY PLEDGES FIGHT TO HALT USURY

City Attorney Stephens notified the City Council yesterday that he will co-operate with Chief Prosecutor Friedlander to work out a plan to protect the people from paying exorbitant interest rates for borrowed money. He will ask for the Council's assistance. So far, the City Attorney said, usual legal methods had proved ineffective in securing this protection. Appeals may be made to the courts for injunctions to prevent the collection of usurious interest rates, Stephens stated.

FUND VOTED TO BATTLE FARE BOOST

Council Gives $5000 So City May Gather Data for Seven-Cent Hearing

To assist the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation in obtaining data for the city's case before the Railroad Commission in resistance against the granting of the Los Angeles Railway Company's application for 7-cent car fares, the City Council yesterday, with approval of the Mayor, appropriated $5000.

Assistant City Attorney Whitehead said the money was needed to employ clerks, checkers and, possibly, engineers to get the necessary data, and that the Controller's offer of the services of Chief Accountant A. R. Abbott would be accepted if his services were needed.

"I thought we paid salaries to men in the utilities department to do this work," said Councilman Jacobson, "and so why the $5000? To hire experts?"

Whitehead replied that there was a great amount of work in gathering and compiling the engineering data, and that the $5000 was needed for this expense.

COUNCIL ACTS FOR BUDGET ON IMPROVEMENTS

The City Council's first meeting to work out a plan for budgeting public improvements, so that property owners will not be overwhelmed with assessments due at one time, will be held tomorrow afternoon.

President Workman announced that the Council will meet for this purpose at 2 o'clock. Mayor Cryer, City Planning Commissioner Danburg, and other officials have recommended this to be done as a result of protests from property owners.

Southern California Gives Plans for Holding Apollid

The University of Southern California announces opening of entries for the third annual Apollid, to comprise original one-act plays, short stories, poems, musical compositions and works of art, aiming to stimulate creative ability among students on the Trojan campus. Final date for all entries to be submitted has been set by the school of speech as January 25.

After a committee has selected the best material submitted, authors, composers and artists of note will be guests and critics of the Apollid program in Touchstone Theater.

Christmas races begin at Southland California Thursday, the 16th inst.

MEN ASKED TO KEEP STORM DRAINS OPEN

Councilman Sanborn yesterday started a move to employ a force of men to keep storm-drain catch basins free of debris during storms, so as to prevent flood water damage. He told the Council there had been a number of instances where houses were flooded due to debris catching during heavy rains. The City Engineer will report to the Finance Committee the number of men required.

WIFE BOASTED OF HER FRIEND, SAYS HUSBAND

Marie Olstyn, according to the complaint of her husband, Theodore G. Olstyn, asking divorce, cherished a "gentleman friend" of whom she boasted and stood ready at any time to "bump off" Mr. Olstyn.

Olstyn wants the court to rule on community property which, he says, is worth $25,000. This matter, he explains, is complicated by the fact that his store stands in his wife's name. He declares he placed it in her name "simply to quiet her" when she was enraged with him.

RICHARDS REINDICTED ON CLAIMS CHARGES

The county grand jury yesterday reindicted C. H. Richards, formerly a county flood control engineer. The new indictment contains eight counts which charge him with perjury, false claims against the county, growing out of asserted padding of pay rolls. The original indictment was dismissed in part by Judge Keesh on duress, on the 8th inst., and the matter was referred back to the jury.

BRIBERY TRIAL NEARING CLOSE

Prison Terms for Sellick and Kempey Demanded

Attacks on Agnes Keller Scored by State

Closing Argument Made by Prosecutor Kelly

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 14.—Demanded that Dist. Atty. Chester C. Kempey and his assistant, Guy Sellick, charged with accepting $40,000 bribe for "throwing" the Johnson-McGovern murder case about eighteen months ago, be sent to San Quentin to join the many convicts they have prosecuted here, Attorney E. J. Kelly pleaded for a verdict of guilty when he opened argument for the state at the bribe trial today.

He scored the attacks made by the defense against the character of Mrs. Agnes Keller, the state's star witness, and cried: "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone." Then he added: "Perhaps next week these defendants will occupy the position which she now holds."

Kempey attacked in his chair indignantly as Kelly was demanding his conviction, but Sellick was more tentative, listening carefully to Kelly's statements in his bitter tone.

After thanking members of the jury for their close attention during the trial, Kelly readily conceded the state's inability to prove that a $40,000 bribe had been asked for and received by Kempey and Sellick as payment for suppressing evidence at the Johnson-McGovern trial.

"The crime of bribery does not lie in the amount received by these officials," he said, "but rather the crime is in the corrupt use of their power by means of which they agreed not to prosecute the case vigorously."

Kelly, in summing up his argument before the jury, buried the following charges against Kempey and Sellick, all of which he contended corroborated the testimony of Agnes Keller, that a corrupt pact had existed between the defendants and William E. Johnson:

(1) Their failure to examine all the police officers who handled the Johnson-McGovern murder case.

(2) Their failure to visit the scene on Overlook Heights where George McGovern's body was found.

(3) Their failure to examine the spot.

(4) Failure of Kempey to read the police file thoroughly.

(5) Kempey's failure to bring back the state of George McGovern from Chicago to establish a motive for the crime.

(6) The content of the District Attorney's report of the two men's thirty-four exhibits, many of which had never been claimed at any time by the state.

(7) The undue haste with which the exhibits were shipped out of California to protect, as Kelly charged, further prosecution of Dan McGovern and Mrs. Mae Johnson.

Defense Counsel Dempster McKee began his argument before the jury late this afternoon.

Donors Wonder at Sudden Gait of Old Cripple

EL MONTE, Dec. 14.—There wandered down the streets of El Monte today an old crippled man.

He was a boy 14 or 15 years of age.

The man hobbled with the aid of a pair of crutches and the boy had the appearance of hopelessly dejected youth.

They collected much largess from the sympathetic business men.

Eventually they wandered to the transit station and bought tickets for Long Beach and waited for the bus.

They failed to reach the station, however, and just as the bus started out, they made a wild dash and caught it.

But they left the crutches behind. They were a goodly lot, and the man, who was a cripple, was able to walk with a steady gait.

CHAPTER TWO IN DEATH CASE

Gaines Faces Court Today in Patterson Killing

Codefendant With Goodwin, Convicted Slayer

Expects Former Recital to Win Him Acquittal

SANTA ANA, Dec. 14.—Preparations were completed today for the preliminary examination of Albert Deway Gaines, charged with the murder of Joseph J. Patterson. The hearing is set for 10 a.m. tomorrow, in Justice Kenneth E. Morrison's court.

Gaines is a codefendant of the Rev. Philip A. Goodwin, American Catholic priest, who was convicted of the Patterson murder and has been sentenced to hang on January 14.

The testimony of Gaines was chiefly responsible for Goodwin's conviction. By this same testimony, it is said, Gaines hopes to save himself.

He admitted that he was with Goodwin and Patterson at the time Patterson was slain, in Santa Ana Canyon, last March 15, but he claims that he did not see the murder.

Goodwin had withdrawn into a remote brushy spot, some distance away from the highway, leaving Gaines waiting in an automobile on the highway, Gaines claims.

The priest returned to the car alone and Gaines never saw Patterson again, he asserts.

Inasmuch as the Gaines story formed the basis of the state's case against Goodwin, it is said, the state will follow in handling the prosecution of Gaines.

According to the defense, the Gaines story is a complete fabrication and that the priest himself, was not present at the death of Patterson.

Backing up the Goodwin story is a statement issued by a man who signs himself as J. MacKenzie, claiming that Goodwin was not present at the death of Patterson and that Patterson was not murdered in Santa Ana Canyon, but was accidentally killed by an automobile driven by Gaines in San Diego county.

MacKenzie, who is said to be a San Diego resident, claims to have been an eyewitness. Gaines then carried Patterson's body to Santa Ana Canyon, he asserts.

Gaines and his attorney, George Halperin of Los Angeles and O. A. Jacobs of Santa Ana, expect that the state will follow in handling the prosecution of Gaines.

SENSATIONS PROMISED

Albrexstonard in Santa Ana Preparing for New Trial Brought by Accusation of Women

SANTA ANA, Dec. 14.—(Radio) Albrexstonard, once nicknamed the "peeped scientist" or "alfalfa doctor" by popular reporters, because of his dietetic theories, was back today at the scene of his former prosecution for alleged violation of the Medical Practice Act.

Albrexstonard is preparing for a new court battle of a different type than that which brought him a sentence in the Orange County Jail, after two charges against his alleged peeped scientist, had died of heart ailments.

Accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Dandorf Shaw, former Santa Ana woman, who stood by Albrexstonard during his criminal prosecution and who now is aiding him with his further legal problems, the scientist came to Santa Ana to conduct certain investigations, he said, connected with the approaching trial of a suit filed against him in Los Angeles by Mrs. Jennie McPadden and her daughter, Jennie E. McPadden, also former Santa Ana woman.

The trial is set for January 11. Albrexstonard will have some "stating" and "sensational" disclosures to make at this trial, he and Mrs. Shaw estimated.

He spoke of persecution and a gigantic plot against Albrexstonard, on the part of his enemies, details which they decline to expose at this time.

That he actually was held prisoner by private detectives in New York and falsely made to appear as a fugitive from justice at the time of his arrest, Albrexstonard said.

He said that the annual cost of his business was about $25,000 per cent.

He testified that while the company's books and supplementary records showed the amount of sales received, the company had no record of the amount of waste and refuse which was disposed of.

Building Superintendent's Report Filed

Damage by Termites Said to Have Been Repaired

PASADENA, Dec. 14.—Yearly inspection of buildings to guard against damage from the invasions of white ants in Pasadena is recommended by Building Superintendent Walter Putnam in a report filed today with City Manager R. V. Orban.

The report, which was not made public because Putnam feared that "property values might be lowered" by the disclosure of the building department in this respect since the white ants were first discovered here last summer.

Putnam said that in his opinion the ants are no more active here than in other Southern California cities and that all damage inflicted on wooden structures here by the insects has now been repaired.

The total cost is said to have been at least $50,000 and fully 100 buildings are believed to have been damaged.

Serious damage was averted by the discovery of the ants last summer.

Putnam believes as a number of buildings were in a critical condition at certain points where joints had been eaten away by the termites.

Most of the damage found was in old buildings.

Skating Hobo Wins Release by Persuasion

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 14.—William Mann, 25 years of age, the "skating hobo," is rolling along again today. Mann was released from the local jail yesterday, a charge of vagrancy against him being dropped.

Mann was arrested recently when he skated by Officers John Stanton and A. E. Bannister on the Coast Highway.

"Where are you going?" the officer asked.

"I'm just rolling around," Mann replied.

Police rolled Mann into the local jail and took his skates away so he wouldn't roll out again.

Yesterday Mann persuaded police to release him. His skates were returned and he rolled away from the "rink." According to officers Mann was released all over California on his skates.
